

A MESSAGE FROM OUR COLLEGE PASTOR

"You've got something very special here," one of our small group leaders was reflecting on the last Tuesday night of 2022. He continued, "I've been involved in my church for a long time. I love it, but this is different!"

The Wesley is in so many ways just like a church. We gather for worship every week, have small groups, and learn God's word together – it has a definite church feel to it. Yet there are other ways that as a campus ministry, we differ. Worship comes with a free dinner, and you won't find an offering plate being passed around. You'll also be hard pressed to find a "committee" meeting that doesn't include doughnuts. Sounds like what all churches should be, right?!

As my friend continued to talk on our last Tuesday night, he touched on one of the main things that does differentiate us from most churches – we have the ability to do life together. Our Tuesday nights are just one of many times a week that students spend with us. This last year we went on a mission trip to inner city Memphis, went canoeing on the Buffalo, and drove to Colorado to retreat from busyness and redirect ourselves into God's word. Students are continually at the Wesley playing ping-pong, studying, and laughing – and we get to be right there with them.

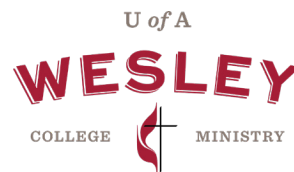

Our main point of connection is our small groups that we call Wesley Hubs. Over meals, on and off campus, at all different times, students study the Bible, share each other's burdens, and grow in Christ together. They are learning that being a Christian has the capacity to do so much more than merely change one hour of your week on a Sunday morning.

Their faith, and the Lord in whom they believe, has the power to change them. In the midst of life's worries and questions, our students are finding themselves less ensnared by sin and more empowered to love because of Christ. Christ invited His first disciples to join Him in making disciples. As you read this annual report, join us in praising Him for continuing to make disciples at the Wesley!
